The Land Rights Research Initiative

Save the Date!

Let us start with wishing all LARRI network members a prosperous and productive new year. With this news flash we want to draw your attention to the first upcoming LARRI event this year.

On March 11 Jeanette Bayisenge presents her findings from her PhD compilation thesis on women's experiences of land rights in the context of the Land Tenure Reform Program in Rwanda. The empirical study is based on fieldwork conducted in Rwanda in 2012 and 2013. Theoretically, the thesis is guided by a triangulation of feminist/gender and bargaining approaches and a wide range of previous studies.

This LARRI Open Seminar will take place at Handelshögskolan, 1.15pm - 3pm in Gothenburg, Sweden.

Please make room for this event in your calendar! More information on this event will come in due course.

Engage in LARRI

If you have any news, such as publications and upcoming events that you would like to share through the LARRI newsletter, please send your suggestion to the LARRI coordinator. In addition, we welcome suggestions of collaborations, seminars etc.

Finally, if you are planning or currently conducting a study or research about related issues, feel free to share this information with LARRI. Perhaps you want others to know about your work, or need assistance during the process or to share your findings. LARRI aims to be a platform where collaborations between different individuals, sectors and disciplines can emerge.
